What do local people think?

Background

The Vision has been developed out of an understanding of some of the key issues that affect the fortunes of the Callington and Kelly Bray. This knowledge comes from local people who know the area best and from available background information including for example; the evidence base for existing and emerging planning policy, socio-economic background, census data, transport considerations and environmental issues and designations.

meetings with stakeholders in the town – representing key groups and organisations. The team has also undertaken its own analysis and review of the area.

In addition to this, extensive engagement with residents and businesses has taken place throughout the project – this has provided a uniquely informed local perspective on what works, what does not and how things could be improved.

The Vision process has been led by the Neighbourhood Plan Steering Group with support from the consultant team. In order to get to know about Callington and Kelly Bray, the consultants have visited extensively at different times of the day and year – including guided visits by Steering Group members, regular project update sessions with the Town Council and Steering Group and numerous one to one Consultation has included – an area wide survey; public exhibitions at the town hall – static and manned; a call for sites; housing and transport Steering Group sub-groups; a business questionnaire; and website and social media communication – throughout the period.
